

Dr Lauren Arnold

Senior Breast Physician

MBBS (Hons1)
FASBP

Dr Lauren Arnold is the Senior Breast Physician and supervisor of breast physician training at the Sydney Breast Clinic, where she has worked since 2005. She also regularly travels to the Northern Territory to provide assessment clinics as part of the BreastScreen team. Lauren is committed to educating women about their breast health and to counselling and explaining, in simple language, the normal and abnormal breast processes and the options for treatment.

She is experienced in clinical assessment of the breast, interpretation of breast imaging, performance of ultrasound guided fine needle and core biopsy and stereotactic breast biopsy. She has particular expertise in the diagnosis of breast cancer, as well as the diagnosis and management of non-cancerous (benign) breast disorders. Her special interests are in the care of pregnant and lactating women and in risk management of women with a family history of breast cancer.

Lauren completed her medical training at The University of Sydney, graduating with First Class Honours. She completed her breast physician specialty training in 2009, and holds a Fellowship of the Australasian Society of Breast Physicians (FASBP). She has served on the Executive of the Australasian Society of Breast Physicians since 2011.
